Outstanding Service to Dental Hygiene Award Recipients (Carl Benson Award)
Core Ideology, Vision, and Values
The Wisconsin Dental Hygienists’ Association (WI-DHA) is the only professional association representing the interests of dental hygienists in the state of Wisconsin. Member engagement plays an important role in the success of the WI-DHA being able to have a voice in regards to dental hygiene legislation at the state and national levels.

This document provides WI-DHA leaders with guidelines on how to carry out the duties and responsibilities of holding an officer, director, liaison, or other volunteer role within the association.

CORE IDEOLOGY – To guide the evolution of the dental hygiene profession to facilitate optimal oral and systemic health.

VISION: Integration of dental hygienists into the healthcare delivery system as primary care providers. Dental hygienists will practice to the fullest extent of their education, training, and licensure to improve access to oral health care.

VALUES: Wellness ~ Service ~ Collaboration ~ Quality ~ Community ~ Lifelong Learning ~ Ethics

All Members shall strive to uphold WI-DHA Bylaws, Policies, Core Ideology, Vision, and Values.

WI-DHA District Structure
The WI-DHA is part of a national organization, the American Dental Hygienists’ Association (ADHA). The national organization has divided the United States into smaller groups called Districts. Wisconsin is part of District VII, which includes: North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. The national association receives input directly from the state organizations through the District Trustee and State Delegates during the Annual Session Board of Trustees Meetings. (For ADHA organizational map see Appendix A.)

Wisconsin is further grouped into seven geographical areas, or components, including: Southeast, Madison, Fox Valley, Bay Area, Central, LaCrosse, and Northwest. Each component has a Component Liaison that represents the individual members of that area. (See Appendix B for WI-DHA Component Map.)

ADHA constituents (including Wisconsin) are required to adopt bylaws consistent with ADHA’s bylaws and to comply with the bylaws, policies and procedures of the organization. These requirements apply regardless of whether or not the state is incorporated.

WI-DHA Governance and Organization
Members are the voting body for WI-DHA policies and bylaws. The WI-DHA Board of Directors vote on behalf of the members when determining how to interpret and carry out the needs of the Association based on the member owned policy manual and bylaw manual.

The WI-DHA board consists of member elected officers: Vice President, President-Elect, President, Immediate Past President, Treasurer, Secretary, and Speaker of the Assembly. The member elected directors include the directors of: Education, Membership, Governmental Affairs, Component Liaisons, and Communications. (See Appendix C for WI-DHA Organizational Map.)

The WI-DHA President appoints individual members to serve on WI-DHA committees. The committees meet to discuss association activities and policies; to assess the progress of programs or projects; and to recommend new programs and policies that should be incorporated into the Strategic Plan.

Board Member Responsibilities

Fiduciary Responsibility

“Fiduciary” is a legal term that refers to a relationship where an individual, or board, is holding something in trust for another. A nonprofit's Board of Directors has ultimate responsibility and accountability to the public for the organization's actions. Fiduciary duties ensure a board acts in the nonprofit’s best interests and works to fulfill the nonprofit's tax-exempt mission and maintain its tax-exempt status.
Board of Directors has THREE fiduciary duties; Duty of Care, Duty of Loyalty, and Duty of Obedience. Videos of Fiduciary responsibilities can be found on the ADHA website.

1. Duty of Care

Requires competence in performing directional functions

- Must use care “a reasonably prudent person would exercise in a like position and under similar circumstances”

Requires that board members:

- Act in good faith.
- Participate in meetings.
- Be prepared (e.g., read reports).
- Ask questions when necessary.
- Exercise independent judgment.
- Delegate to staff and committees.
- Rely on the advice of third parties when necessary (e.g., attorneys, accountants).

2. Duty of Loyalty

- Requires faithful pursuit of the interests of the organization (rather than the financial or other interests of the board member, or another person or organization).
- May not use position, or information gained from participating on the board, to secure a personal benefit.
- Must disclose actual, potential, or perceived conflicts of interest.
- Must abstain from participating on such matters.
- Must maintain confidentiality of board discussions.

3. Duty of Obedience

- Requires faithful pursuit of organization’s mission and decisions (within the bounds of law).
- Must abide by the organization’s rules and policies.
- Must support, help implement, and avoid undermining the board’s decision.

Board Members Duties:

- Adopt and adhere to a conflict of interest policy.
- Adopt and adhere to codes of ethics for directors and staff.
- Establish effective internal financial and accounting controls.
- Ensure that the board understands and can fulfill its financial responsibilities.
- Conduct financial reviews, including audits.
- Ensure the accuracy of Form 990 disclosures.
- Adopt a policy on reporting/responding to suspected misconduct or malfeasance.
- Ensure adequate employment policies.
- Promote a culture of accountability and transparency.
- Determine and follow the organization’s mission and purposes.
- Establish policies and delegate implementation.
- Develop leadership and appoint board committees.
- Ensure effective organizational planning.
- Enhance the organization’s public image.
- Resolve issues that cannot be handled elsewhere.
- Assess the staff and the board’s performance (which may be different).
- Understand statutory requirements for board meetings and voting procedures.
- Follow requirements for taking board action without a meeting (no proxy voting).
- Understand the use of executive sessions.
Draft meeting minutes that include only action items, not extraneous discussions.
Understand the association’s legal status: Understand the hierarchy of governance documents (Corporate statute, Articles of incorporation, Bylaws, Policies).
Recognize that changes in governance documents can have upward and downward impacts.
Assure periodic review of governance documents (e.g., bylaws, articles, policies) to make sure the association is acting in compliance and is up to date with current practice.
Understand role and responsibilities of board and officers.

Collaborative Leadership

Collaborative leaders engage people and groups to work toward common goals that rise above their traditional roles, disciplines and past experience and beliefs. They focus on competencies not work scope, position or experience. Leaders must take a team-based approach to complexity, coordination & innovation.

Qualities of a collaborative leader:
- Willingness to take risks
- Eager listener
- Optimistic about the future
- Able to share knowledge, power and credit
- Find ways of simplifying complex situations
- Prepare to handle conflict well in advance
- Recognize there are some people or organizations difficult to partner with
- Have the courage to act for the long term
- Invest in strong personal relationships at all levels
- Inject energy, passion and drive into your leadership style
- Continually develop interpersonal skills

Strategic Planning

Strategic planning encourages leaders to develop a shared vision of the future and to communicate core values and strategies. A set of specific and quantifiable measures should be developed that identify success year after year. Before beginning, there needs to be a consensus about the role of the organization.

Apply the same tactics for developing the association’s mission to the process of strategic planning.

The role of the strategic plan is to:

1. Identify long range goals, operational objectives, and financial projections for achieving the purpose of the Association as stated in the Bylaws.
2. Assist the finance committee in preparing an annual budget that will accomplish the goals and objectives of the Association and fulfill Association programs
3. Help guide committees with setting goals and creating action plans.
4. Align board objectives and actions with WI-DHA bylaw and policy manuals.
5. Determine methods of reaching long-term goals.
6. Align one-year strategic plan objectives with action plans and budget requests.
7. Have plans approved by WI-DHA Board at the BOD meeting.
8. Provide guidance for action teams to stay focused as new information is introduced by Committees, Component Liaisons, or external sources.
9. Helps action teams to gain BOD approval when requesting assistance to achieve an action item or requesting funding for an action item.
10. Will assist in determining committees that need to continue and new committees that need to be assigned at the beginning of new presidential term.
11. Used as a guide to evaluate programs for effectiveness by reviewing reports and recommendations of Committees, BOD, Component liaisons at the end of a presidential term.

Strategic plan:
1. Conduct a situational analysis. This allows the leaders to make decisions based upon what they know rather than what they believe. Analysis is the critical starting point of strategic thinking.
2. Perform an organizational audit. This helps members understand the association’s strengths and weaknesses.
3. Identify the strengths and weaknesses of the existing strategic plan. Then prioritize items from highest to lowest value in each area.
4. Develop goals. Central aims or long-term targets that are made known to the public.
5. Outline objectives. Objectives are more specific than goals and are associated with actions within each goal area. An objective is a clear, concise and measurable statement of what is to be achieved.
6. Develop action plans. Action plans are a series of steps to meet the objectives, or how to proceed. An action plan designates a timetable, the persons responsible for completing the plan, the finances, and other resources needed. It also provides a mechanism to continually evaluate progress, and it may suggest the need to incorporate alternative plans, if necessary.
7. Define the metrics that will be used to measure the success of each goal. For an association to accomplish its strategic plan in a timely manner, it will need to identify and distribute responsibilities among the members of the association.

Mega Issues

Mega issues are: strategic planning issues requiring more dialogue, emerging issues/controversial issues identified by leadership/boards, or task force/committee recommendations. The National House of Delegates engages in a mega issue discussion at Annual Session. Many districts and states are starting to utilize mega issue discussions to facilitate their strategic planning as well.

• Frequently complex, not easily resolved, sometimes highly emotional
• Require broad-based input and buy-in
• Challenge participants to get out of the box
• Require well thought-out questions
• Discussions should lead to a practical consensus.

Effective Meetings

Written agenda - The agenda lists the topics to be discussed during the meeting. Agendas should be prioritized in order of importance. This will ensure that, given potential time constraints, the most important items will be addressed.

Consent Agenda - Often, meetings are the only time when the board as a whole gets together to execute its governing responsibilities and time is limited.

A consent agenda can turn a board meeting into a meeting of the minds around the things that matter most. A consent agenda is a bundle of items that is voted on, without discussion, as a package. It differentiates between routine matters not needing explanation and more complex issues needing examination. While not difficult to use, a consent agenda requires discipline in working through the following seven steps:

1. Set the meeting agenda
2. Distribute materials in advance
3. Read materials in advance
4. Introduce the consent agenda at the meeting
5. Remove (if requested) an item from and accept the consent agenda
6. Approve the consent agenda
7. Document acceptance of the consent agenda

Established rules - Rules will affect how much gets accomplished during the meeting. Many groups choose to make decisions by consensus, reaching a unanimous decision through discussion and compromise. When trying to achieve consensus, the chair is responsible for ensuring that there is no disagreement. If there is a large group of meeting participants, you will probably get more accomplished by using parliamentary procedure, which is outlined in Roberts Rules of Order.

A fair chairperson - The chair guides the discussion; pays attention to the flow of the meeting; ensures that majority opinions are adopted and minority opinions are protected; that business is accomplished; and that goals are achieved.
Meeting documentation – A secretary should be appointed to document the important aspects of the meeting. Documentation should be in the form of minutes that follow the agenda. In addition to minutes, some state and local organizations may summarize the meeting in the form of a report for historical files.

Procedures for WI-DHA Board Meetings
Mandatory attendance: President, President Elect, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary, Immediate Past President, Speaker of the Assembly, Directors and Component Liaisons.

Reports: Officers and directors are required to submit a Quarterly Report to the Secretary one week before each scheduled Board meeting. Officers and directors are expected to read each quarterly report before the board meeting.

Parliamentary Procedure

Parliamentary procedure is the method WI-DHA uses for decision making. However, parliamentary procedure is not mandatory. The WI-DHA board can set agreed upon rules at the beginning of a meeting to establish order and productivity. WI-DHA recommends the parliamentary authority, Roberts' Rules of Order, Newly Revised.

Financial Responsibility

A professional association exists to promote the welfare of its members and the welfare of the public that it serves. To fulfill the duties of WI-DHA you will need to attend to financial and finance-related issues that uniquely impact the professional association as well as issues which are generally common to business.

Following are some financial and finance-related issues that you are likely to encounter. Keep in mind that it is impossible to identify all of the issues that WI-DHA may face, and because circumstances invariably differ, it is also impossible to provide all of the answers. There is no substitute for obtaining professional advice!

Financial Policies - Financial policies are set by the Board of Directors (BOD) according to goals set forth in the Strategic plan. The BOD will determine the dues that each member pays, investments, level of reserves to be maintained, special funds for specific use, reimbursement guidelines for members and guidelines for who signs checks. The President and Treasurer are responsible for making day-to-day operational decisions such as where to maintain bank accounts, paying out expense requests, etc... To ensure the effectiveness of financial policies, it is crucial that the authority and responsibility for the implementation and maintenance of the financial operation and record keeping is clearly defined as to who is responsible for carrying out these functions; i.e., what are the roles of the president, president-elect, treasurer, and staff if applicable.

Financial Statements and Methods of Accounting- There are two methods of accounting, the cash and accrual methods.

Cash basis: (cash receipts and disbursements) is the simplest method of accounting. Income is reported in the year that the cash receipt is physically received and deposited into the bank. Expenses are taken in the year that the expense is actually paid.

Accrual basis: is generally accepted method of accounting and is the more accurate method of accounting that should be used. With the accrual method, income is recorded when you have the right to receive the money. Thus, the right to receive the money controls and not the actual receipt of payment. Expenses are taken in the year incurred. Thus, when you incur the expense controls and not when you actually pay for the item. Under the accrual method your association will have accounts receivable and accounts payable on its books.

WI-DHA will compile financial statements on a monthly basis, report to the President monthly and the BOD quarterly.

There are three basic financial statements that should be prepared on a monthly basis if possible:
• Statement of Financial Position (balance sheet)
• Statement of Activities (income statement)
• Statement of Cash Flows (cash flows statement)

If budgets are used, then the Statement of Activities should include a comparison of actual results to budget.

Budgets - A budget can be described as a summary of intended expenditures along with a projection of revenues to meet them. A budget is used as the basis for planning and controlling cost in accordance with the guidelines set by the governing body. In most cases, the budget is approved by the board of directors or the house of delegates.

Effective budgeting starts with the financial planning for the upcoming year(s). Although past performance will be useful in planning some aspects of your budget, relying solely on historical data can lead to incorrect projections. Relying totally on historical data can also lead to incorrect assumptions about the future. Therefore, when preparing your budgets, zero-based budgeting should be applied. Zero-based budgeting is a process by which each expense and revenue for each activity or function is justified every time a new budget is prepared.

When preparing a budget, make sure that expenses are matched with revenues earned in the same period; i.e., dues earned for the period January through December should be matched with expenses incurred from January through December (see accrual basis accounting).

Once the budget has been approved or adopted, it should be monitored preferably on a monthly basis, and not less than quarterly. Budget variance should be analyzed and appropriate action should be taken if necessary.

Hands on Budgeting- Once the WI-DHA strategic plan has been updated the budget can be aligned accordingly. The budget is one of the basic planning tools of the Association and should be directly linked to the strategic plan. The budgeting or finance committee should consist of the president, treasurer, and members with financial planning or budgeting experience.

Begin by identifying every program or activity for the coming year as it is outlined in the strategic plan. Some examples of state and local programs might be:

- Annual Meeting
- Membership retention/benefits
- Monthly business meetings
- Board/committee meetings
- Networking events
- Legislative activities
- Continuing education seminars
- Communications/newsletters
- Membership recruitment initiatives
- Community outreach programs

Once each program has been identified, itemize the expenses anticipated to conduct the program. In addition, if the program generates revenue, include the projected revenue separately from the expenses.

Create a budget page for each strategic action plan that has financial impact. The budget page should include the project’s description, time line, and expense/revenue.

By preparing this type of budget for each program, the members can easily see which programs produce revenue, which programs break even, and which ones do not produce sufficient income to cover expenses. It will also more clearly identify the strategic plan programs that have financial impact on the association.

Once the budget for each individual program is prepared, combine all of the programs along with the overhead into one complete budget. When the budget has been prepared, it should be shared with the BOD. Individual program budget details should be given to the individual or group responsible for implementing the program. Members should be provided with access to the budget. Access can be provided during the association’s annual meeting or by request through a board member.

Federal Tax Identification Number- WI-DHA must have its own tax identification number separate from ADHA.

A federal tax identification number (otherwise known as employer identification number) is used on all federal and some state filings and is required to conduct business such as the opening of bank accounts.

Tax-Exempt Status- There are many different types of tax-exempt organizations. Although the Internal Revenue Code recognizes numerous types of tax-exempt organizations, state and local organizations are considered a “business league” under Internal Revenue Code 501 (c) (6). WI-DHA is a “business league” for tax purposes.

As a business league, the major benefit of tax-exempt status is that WI-DHA does not have to pay federal tax on their excess of income over expenses (“profits”) as it relates to the purpose and function of the organization. However, unrelated business income may be taxable to the extent that revenues exceed expenses (see Unrelated Business Income
In order to be recognized as a not-for-profit under Internal Revenue Code 501 (c) (6), WI-DHA should apply for exempt status using IRS form 1024. The application can be somewhat complicated, so it is recommended that you seek legal advice before filing it.

WI-DHA should not take any action that would prevent it from being eligible for exemption from the payment of federal income taxes as a tax-exempt organization within the meaning of section 501(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Without a tax-exempt status, state and local organizations are unable to file the new IRS Form 990 or 990 EZ, which is required by federal law. Please see the following section related to the filing of the 990.

WI-DHA uses a professional and certified accountant to help file appropriate tax-exempt documentation.

Incorporation- Incorporation is the process of creating a legal entity under authority granted by a state. The Internal Revenue Service can grant only nonprofit organizations an exemption from federal income tax, but incorporation is not required for an organization to be considered tax-exempt by the IRS.

- A primary benefit of incorporation is that it protects individual officers and members from personal liability when conducting activities on behalf of the state or local. Also, state law typically offers protection from personal liability for officers of incorporated associations.
- Liability insurance can be purchased whether incorporated or not – but it is more difficult to purchase if unincorporated.
- An incorporated state/local can sue and be sued in its corporate name, while an unincorporated state/local must appear in court in the name of participants (officers and members).
- Vendors are more willing to enter into contracts with incorporated associations.
- State corporation laws provide clear guidance to incorporated associations regarding organizational structure, voting and other matters.
- An incorporated association’s liability for federal and state income tax is usually limited to corporate assets, while members of an unincorporated association could be personally responsible for income taxes. Note: a tax-exempt organization is exempt from federal and state taxes on income derived from activities substantially related to the organization’s tax-exempt purposes, but is still subject to sales and use taxes, real estate taxes, personal property taxes, payroll taxes, unrelated business income taxes, lobbying taxes and other state and local taxes.
- ADHA strongly recommends that states be incorporated, but recognizes that locals must weigh the benefits of incorporation against the costs.

Unrelated Business Income Tax (UBIT)

Even though an organization is recognized as tax exempt, it still may be liable for tax on its unrelated business income. Unrelated business taxable income (UBIT) is income from a trade or business regularly carried on by an exempt organization that is not substantially related to the organization’s exempt purpose. The following common income items are excluded from unrelated business income:

- Dividends
- Interest
- Royalties
- Rents (only if no mortgage)
- Tradeshown exhibit fees

The revenue that most organizations must pay tax on is derived from profits from the sale of mailing lists and the sale of advertising in a periodical it publishes. The gross advertising income is then reduced by the related expenses to come up with a net income amount that will be taxed.

Another item of concern is the income derived from “sponsorships” of events. These sponsorships will not be taxed, provided that the sponsor does not expect any substantial return other than the use or acknowledgment of the sponsor’s name, logo, or product lines. The sponsorship must not include messages that contain qualitative or comparative language; price information; an endorsement; or an inducement to purchase, sell, or use the sponsor’s products or services. If it fails this test, then the sponsorship income would be taxable as UBIT.

In addition to paying federal income tax on any UBIT, you must also check with your applicable state regulations, as most states also impose a tax on UBIT.

An exempt organization that has $1,000 or more gross income from an unrelated business must file Form 990-T, Exempt Organization Business Income Tax Return. The obligation to file Form 990-T is in addition to the obligation to file the annual information return. Tax-exempt organizations must make quarterly payments of estimated tax on unrelated business income. An organization must make estimated tax payments if it expects its tax for the year to be $500 or more. The Form 990-T of a tax-exempt organization must be filed by the 15th day of the 5th month after the tax year ends. For additional information, see the Form 990-T instructions or Publication 598, Tax on Unrelated Business Income of Exempt Organizations. NOTE: Organizations that report more than $1,000 of UBIT on their Form 990 but have not filed Form 990-T may receive an inquiry from the IRS and could be subject to audit.

Taxes for Employees- For those state and local organizations who have staff, every employer, including a tax-exempt organization, who pays wages to employees is responsible for withholding, depositing, paying, and reporting federal income tax, social security taxes (FICA), and federal unemployment tax (FUTA) for such wage payments, unless that employer is specifically excepted by statute from such requirements or if the taxes are clearly inapplicable.

Filing the 1099 Form for Independent Contractors- For those state and local organizations hiring speakers, web designers, lobbyists, etc. (any non-employee compensation) making $600 or more, a 1099-MISC must be filed with the IRS. Following are the due dates:

Due Date to IRS (unless indicated otherwise): February 28th*
Due Date to Recipient (unless indicated otherwise): January 31

For more information, go to www.irs.gov

Income- Member dues are collected by ADHA. State and local organizations are authorized to establish dues rates and raise funds by methods other than dues, provided such activities are consistent with ADHA’s bylaws, policies, and rules and comply with all federal, state, and local laws.

Internal Controls- Internal controls can briefly be summarized as a plan to protect the association's assets, verify the accuracy and reliability of its financial data, and promote operational efficiency under a set of guidelines adopted by the association. It must be understood that the effectiveness of internal controls can sometimes be limited by the resources available to implement them. The following is a list of some internal control procedures that could help strengthen your association financially.

1. Segregation of Duties
   - No one person should control all aspects of a transaction.
   - All checks should require two signatures.
   - A non-check signer should reconcile the bank statement.
   - The person making bank deposits should not write checks.
   - The person making the expenditure should NOT approve it or sign the check. A second person should approve and sign the applicable payment.

2. A separate bank account should be opened in the name of the organization.

3. Payments should be made based only upon original receipts as backup. Copies of receipts or copies of credit card statements should not be used. Credit card charge tickets must be provided as support. All supporting documents should be marked in ink that they have been paid to avoid duplicate payment of the same original invoice.

4. Checks received should be immediately endorsed with the bank deposit stamp and bank deposits should be made as soon as possible. Physical cash should be deposited the same day it is received.

5. Bank reconciliations should be done monthly, preferably by a person who is not involved in the bank deposit or cash disbursement functions. If this is not possible, a second person should review and initial the bank reconciliation.
6. Financial statements with a comparison to budget should be sent to the board of directors on a quarterly basis.

7. Record retention schedules should be approved and followed.

Debts and Liabilities- WI-DHA is solely responsible for its own debts and liabilities, and for fulfilling all requirements imposed by government authorities, including reporting and tax requirements.

WI-DHA Conflict of Interest Policy

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY The Wisconsin Dental Hygienists’ Association (WI-DHA) is a not-for-profit association which provides support, directly or indirectly, for a variety of activities in the areas of research, education, promotion, and advocacy. The integrity of such activities, as well as that of the Association generally, is dependent on the avoidance of conflicts of interests, or even the appearance of such conflicts, by the participants.

At the same time, WI-DHA recognizes that the elected and appointed leaders of WI-DHA, as well as others acting on the Associations behalf, also have significant professional, business and personal relationships. Therefore, WI-DHA has determined that the most appropriate manner in which to address actual, potential or apparent conflicts of interest is primarily through liberal disclosure of any financial or other interest which might be construed as resulting in such a conflict.

This Policy should not be construed as creating a presumption of impropriety. Rather, it reflects WI-DHA’s recognition of the many factors that can influence judgment and a desire to make as much information as possible available to other participants in WI-DHA related matters. Any individual involved in an WI-DHA activity or decision-making process shall have an obligation to disclose a significant financial interest in or other relationship with, an entity having a commercial interest in the activity or outcome of the decision.

A commercial interest may exist not only where the entity’s products or services are under consideration by the Association, but also where the entity’s products or services are in competition with those under consideration. By the disclosure of such interests, WI-DHA will be in a better position to determine whether the participant may have an interest in conflict with the interests of WI-DHA.

WI-DHA is primarily concerned with potential conflicts of interest involving those individuals participating directly in WI-DHA related activities. Potential conflicts of interest also may arise, however, if an individual with whom the participant directly shares income (e.g., a spouse) has a financial interest in, or other relationship with, an entity having a commercial interest in the activity or matter under consideration.

Financial interests or relationships requiring disclosure include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following:

Employment Any full- or part-time employment must be disclosed. Consultant arrangements must be disclosed if the consultation is current or proposed; or the consultation was performed, or payments were made for such consultation, within the prior two years. Any ownership interests (including stock options but excluding indirect investments through mutual funds and the like) in a company, the stock of which is not publicly traded, must be disclosed. If the company is publicly traded, ownership interests valued at $1,000 or more must be disclosed. In addition, any other ownership interests in an entity having a commercial interest in an activity or matter under consideration by WI-DHA must be disclosed. Honoraria are reasonable payments for specific speeches, seminar presentations, or appearances. Disclosure of honoraria is required in the event the amount paid, or about to be paid, is equal to or greater than $1,000 per year or $2,500 over a three-year period. Receipt of funds for conducting research must be disclosed. Moreover, research funding which varies according to research outcomes or which is not commensurate with the requisite effort is particularly relevant.

Any leadership role (e.g., as a Board member, committee member, advisor) in another organization must be disclosed. The nature of the required disclosure may vary according to the circumstances. In most instances, disclosure of the conflicting or potentially conflicting interest will itself suffice to protect the Association’s interests. In other words, once such a conflict is fully disclosed to the relevant parties, they generally will be able to evaluate the possible influence of the disclosed interest. In relatively limited situations where such disclosure does not appear to deal with actual or potential problems, additional action, including denial of participation in the subject activity or consideration of the matter, may be necessary. It will be the responsibility of the appropriate WI-DHA leaders to interpret and apply the guidelines to fit the particular circumstances.

Integral to the implementation of the Conflict of Interest Policy is the WI-DHA Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form, a copy of which is attached, which shall be considered a part of the Conflict of Interest Policy and must be submitted by any individual desiring to participate in an WI-DHA activity. Disclosure Forms shall be kept on file by the WI-DHA staff for a period of two years, or 1 year after the conclusion of the activity or decision-making process, whichever is longer, unless otherwise determined by the Board.
In order to facilitate implementation of the Conflict of Interest Policy, the Board of Trustees, or their designee(s), shall determine when an individual engaged in, or about to engage in, an WI-DHA-related activity or other matter under consideration has an actual, potential, or apparent conflict of interest requiring some response by WI-DHA. Specifically, subject to the procedures set forth herein, the Board may require any action it deems appropriate, including, but not limited to, the following: (1) Disclosure of the interests to the other participants in the decision- or policymaking body (e.g., committee, editorial board, affiliated society). (2) Written and, in some cases, oral disclosure of the interest (e.g., to an audience receiving the results of clinical research or at scientific or educational sessions). (3) Recusal from voting on a matter and limitation of the individual’s participation only to the provision of factual information of benefit to the group discussion. (4) Complete recusal from a portion of a meeting or from other consideration of the subject matter. (5) Replacement of the individual in the subject position or activity.

All participants in WI-DHA-related activities must comply with the WI-DHA Conflict of Interest Policy. Committee chairs, editors, etc., may be specifically designated by the Board to interpret and apply the Policy. Inasmuch as the Policy is stated in general terms, however, the appropriate WI-DHA leaders are expected to use their best judgment to interpret and apply the Policy to the particular circumstances presented before them.

Student Scientific Poster Presentation

*The Informative Poster Presentation is a new student competition introduced in 2017. Informative Poster Presentations are not original research but are required to be presented in a poster format instead of a tabletop, tri-fold board format. For the 2018 Student Competition and beyond, Table Clinics will no longer be allowed and all non-original research is required to be presented as an Informative Poster Presentation.

Through the Informative Poster Presentations students will have the opportunity to raise awareness about a theory, service or trend in dental hygiene practice. This is a competition, and will be both judged and scored. This means that there will be a single First, Second, Third, and Fourth place award winner chosen from the presentation.

All applications must be received by Friday, September 25, 2020.

WHAT IS AN INFORMATIVE POSTER PRESENTATION?

An Informative Poster Presentation is a presentation using oral communication and a professional poster to inform, clarify, and/or review material on a specific topic. An Informative Poster Presentation is NOT original research.

An Informative Poster presents useful and timely information in an original, interesting manner. This information may be a technique, theory, service, trend or expanded opportunity in the practice of dental hygiene and/or the broader realm of oral and systemic health. Your Informative Poster should be focused, clear and concise to provide information quickly and stimulate attention and interest. An Informative Poster is not an exhibit of materials.

CRITERIA FOR PREPARING YOUR INFORMATIVE POSTER PRESENTATION.

2. Research your topic thoroughly and have reference documentation available.
3. Be prepared for questions and discussion.
4. Be prepared to communicate the information clearly within the allotted seven minutes. Practice your presentation so that you can discuss the key points without reading directly from note cards.
5. Prepare your poster to effectively communicate and supplement what you are saying. Avoid using sensationalized comments or images. The presentation should be professional and based in sound science and qualified references.
6. Practice your presentation with friends and colleagues. Ask for constructive criticism.

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR INFORMATIVE POSTER PRESENTERS

1. Up to four presenters are allowed for each poster.
2. Professional attire is required. Please keep in mind that presenters will be standing during the entire judging process. Comfortable shoes are recommended.
3. Displaying a dental hygiene program name or name tag during judging is strictly prohibited. Do not wear name tags with school affiliation. Those who do not comply will be disqualified from the competition.
4. Presentations must not exceed seven minutes. A two to three minute question and answer portion will follow after concluding the presentation.
5. Trade names on products and or instruments are allowed to be identified.
6. Drugs names are allowed to be identified by their trade, commercial or product name. However, drug names must be referenced by their generic name or chemical makeup following the initial statement of the trade, commercial or product name.
7. Posters will be judged by three randomly assigned judges.
8. Advertising matter, commercial promotion and solicitation of sales of any type are prohibited.
9. Posters must be confined to the size of the billboard provided (4’ x 8’), and in landscape layout. Failure to comply with these rules and regulations will disqualify the poster from active competition and it will not be judged.
